New Webseries, Star Trek Continues, Announces Cast Taking Star Trek Fan Films to the Final Frontier

WASHINGTON, DC, March 23, 2012 — Farragut Films, the film group that produces the Starship Farragut webseries, and Dracogen Strategic Investments, announced today the cast for the new webseries, Star Trek Continues. Led by Vic Mignogna, one of Farragut Films' principals, this new webseries showcases Classic Trek with prominent and professional actors:

Captain Kirk	Vic Mignogna
Mr. Spock	Todd Haberkorn
Doctor McCoy	Chuck Huber
Mr. Scott	Chris Doohan
Mr. Sulu	Grant Imahara
Lieutenant Uhura	Kim Stinger
Ensign Chekov	Wyatt Lenart

"A great deal of thought and consideration went into assembling the best cast possible. Every one of them is an accomplished and skilled professional who brings so much to the production. From the beginning, we committed to having experienced actors who would bring deep and endearing performances, and that's exactly what we have," said Vic Mignogna. "I hope the avid admirers of Star Trek will enjoy this cast's work as much as we are going to enjoy making it!"

In the upcoming weeks, additional information will be released on the other characters with biographical details regarding their acting and industry credentials.

Filming of several vignettes will take place in May at Farragut Films Studio in Kingsland, Ga. At nearly 10,000 square feet, the studio is the largest facility of Trek sets in the world. Conveniently located off Interstate 95 near the Florida border and only 35 miles north of the Jacksonville International Airport, the studio has numerous amenities such as hotels, restaurants, and stores. A SAG signatory entity, Farragut Films has partnered with Hollywood professionals, as well as local businesses to help promote Kingsland and bridge the West Coast to East Coast for film projects.

About Farragut Films, a film group headquartered in Washington D.C., produces Starship Farragut, an award-winning webseries based on The Original Series of Star Trek.
